'Best of Elearning!' Awards Honor 100 Top Solutions

BY JERRY ROCHE AND CATHERINE UPTON

The 2015 "Best of Elearning!" awards honor best-in-class solutions across the learning and technology marketplace. Celebrating their 11th year, the awards received more nominations for more brands in more categories than ever.

Best of Elearning! awards are the industry's exclusive users'-choice awards. All nominations are made directly by users of solutions. More than 4,000 nominations were received in 2015.

"Given the number of nominations, to make the list in 2015 is quite an honor," says Catherine Upton, Elearning! Media Group's publisher. "There is no better honor than to be nominated by users and customers of these best-in-class solutions."

The Best of Elearning! awards program was first implemented to formalize the recommendation and purchase process for the e-learning community. Research indicated 85 percent of readers had recommended an e-learning solution to a peer over the most recent 12-month period, and 61 percent claimed that award recognition "impacts their decision" to consider a product or service. The "Best of E-learning!" program formalizes this referral process.

ABOUT THE VOTING PROCESS

Elearning! Media Group community members, readers, subscribers and online visitors were invited to nominate their solution provider via an online ballot during June 1 to October 15, 2015. The ballot was open-ended with 30 categories stipulated. At close, the ballots were reviewed. Duplicates were removed, vendor ballots were nullified as well as votes without a verifiable company domain address (ex.: gmail, aol, etc.). Editors verified product types and categories before counting. The top vote earners in each category were identified as finalists. Those with a 10 percent lead over all other products in a category earned category winner status. Close vote counts and runner-ups earned Award of Excellence.
