

Knowledge K04 - Business Model

Course Summary

Key components required to convert strategy to actual execution

Introduction

After you have a clear strategy and business design, the next stage entails converting the output into tangible and measurable results.

This module looks at the steps required to establish the critical tasks and business interdependencies across the training and corporate organisation. This will include financial planning and management, business control and metrics, building or rebuilding an organisation, the establishment of a business climate and employee culture, and delivering the business value proposition.

Topics

- Establishing critical tasks
- Understanding business model interdependencies
- Financial planning and management
- Business control and metrics
- Building the organisation
- Establishing a business climate and employee culture
- Delivering the business value proposition
- Rebuilding an organisation

Prerequisites

Foundation Series