

Knowledge K17 - Legal

Course Summary

Protecting the training business

Introduction

This module introduces and explains the legal requirements that a training department needs to consider in order to protect itself, its partners and its customers. It looks into the various legal facets to be considered, including import and export restrictions and regulations, trademarks, indemnity and liability, intellectual property and data protection.

Topics

- Contracts versus standard terms and conditions
- Indemnity and liability
- Import/export regulations and restrictions
- Content and trademark intellectual property
- Data protection
- Customer references: implications

Prerequisites

Foundation Series